For Immediate Release

RFID Global Solution, Inc. and RFID Revolution Partner on Online RFID Training

New Web-based training, RFID Essentials, available online

Reston, VA, and Silver Spring, MD, April 22, 2009 - RFID Global Solution, Inc., the leading provider of real time visibility solutions, and RFID Revolution, an innovative RFID education provider, announced today a strategic partnership to provide RFID Revolution's web-based RFID training to aerospace, defense and commercial clients. RFID Essentials is a state-of-the-art resource designed to meet the needs of end-user organizations.

RFID Essentials helps professionals not only learn about RFID technology, but how to apply it in their enterprise, assess ROI, and plan a deployment. The entire course can be completed in hours versus the days it takes for a typical classroom curriculum. It is delivered via the Internet, so learners proceed at their own pace and schedule, from any location.

RFID Global Solution works with clients across multiple industries and helps them to become more self-sufficient in planning and managing RFID rollouts.

"RFID Essentials is a great addition to our existing training approach," said Diana Hage, Chief Executive Officer, RFID Global Solution. "It is the most engaging and cost-effective RFID training in the market today. What we like most about the course is its interactivity and ease of delivery. Students have many opportunities to test their learning in simulated environments to reinforce their learning. We look forward to leveraging Internet delivery approaches to accelerate market understanding and adoption."

"RFID Global Solution is an outstanding partner for us," said Leslie Downey, Principal, RFID Revolution. "The company has an extremely strong foundation of experience in the RFID market, with an extensive and growing client base. It was founded by pioneers of the RFID industry, and they continue to be the innovation leaders in this market."

RFIDGS will be demonstrating RFID Essentials to attendees at the RFID Journal Live! Conference in Orlando, Florida, from April 27-29, 2009.
